

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

COLLEGE CLUB TO MEET TODAY

The College club will present a program on Ernest Haackel at its meeting this afternoon. Haackel's "The Riddle of the Universe" will be reviewed by Mrs. W. W. Watkins and Miss Edna Swingle and other members of the club will contribute to the general discussion. The program previously announced will be given at the next fortnightly session.

At the initial gathering of the club a committee was appointed to draw up resolutions as a record of appreciation of the life and services of Mrs. A. W. Morrill, president of the club, who passed away in Prescott last summer. The esteem in which she was held by the club members was fittingly expressed by Miss Helen Armstrong and Mrs. Kate Wisner McCluskey, who said of her:

WHEREAS, the death of Mrs. A. W. Morrill has removed from this club a dearly beloved and valued presence;

BE IT RESOLVED, by the College Club of Phoenix at its meeting of October 15th that we record our appreciation of the life and services and the inestimable value of her friendship.

She served as president of this club with unselfish devotion, giving to its work from her wealth of mind and heart with sincere unassuming charm. She had a high sense of honor and loyalty and her enthusiasm in all its undertakings was remarkable. She also had that rare gift of doing small things in a great way. We say of her with pride that she was a "College Woman."

Although her friendships were wide, she had a fine sense of individuality and discrimination which made each friend of personal value, a response to her own versatile nature. Indeed, so close did she come to us, and so intimate and personal in our remembrance of her, that it seems almost too sacred to put into form an expression of our loss. There was a certain "lift of the spirit" about her which we felt even from her presence in the room. And in these meetings which she loved, so vital was her influence that we cannot feel now that she is far from each one of us.

We therefore ask in remembrance of her and as an expression of our sympathy to those whose loss is even greater than ours, that these resolutions be made a part of the record, and a copy be sent to Dr. Morrill and Austin and to her mother, Mrs. McCormick.

HELEN ARMSTRONG,
KATE W. MCCLUSKEY.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair, soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderin.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderin now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff.

of falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderin is, we believe, the only sure hair grower; destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little danderin and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.

CROOKED INSURANCE AGENT IS OPERATING THROUGHOUT STATE

C. C. Thompson, superintendent of insurance for the corporation commission, has issued a warning to all people contemplating buying insurance, to be on the lookout for agents who have no authority from him to sell insurance in the state.

A case has come to his notice wherein one P. C. Jones has been selling insurance over the state, collecting the premiums and then not showing up again. Neither does the policy. Neither Mr. Jones or his company, which he claims to represent, are licensed in the state.

He first heard from this man at Tucson, where a letter addressed to him came. The next intimation he had that there were fraudulent insurance deals being pulled off came from Yuma, where a woman wrote to him that the said Mr. Jones had been through that town, and had gotten away with quite a bit of money. If Jones can be caught it will probably go hard with him. He will be charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

Following is a copy of the warning being sent out by Mr. Thompson: "The insuring public in this state is hereby warned against transacting business with any class of insurance representatives who may be traveling through the state, not properly identified, and who are not able to show the authority of the companies they may represent to transact the business of insurance in this state.

"We have just received at this department information that one P. C. Jones, purporting to represent the Great Eastern Casualty company, neither the company nor the said P. C. Jones being authorized to transact business in this state, has written a number of applications in Yuma and vicinity, collecting annual premiums in advance and to this date nothing has been heard from the representative or the company.

"This should be ample warning to the general public that no matter what class or kind of insurance is represented, before transacting any business when they are approached by strangers claiming to be representatives of any insurance company, they should communicate with the insurance department and ascertain whether or not the company or the agent is legally authorized to write insurance in this state."

SIN TO SALVATION SUBJECT OF SERMON

"From sin unto salvation," Dr. Hinson contended, "constitutes the longest bridge in the world. He pointed out first the distinction between crime and sin. The courts take no cognizance of sin. Only as sin becomes crime does the law notice it. There is sin that is not crime, and crime that is not sin. Sin is the wrong attitude of the soul towards God. All sin is against God. Sin is the grief of God. Sin made Christ a man of sorrows. It keeps Him a man of sorrows.

Sin is the curse of man. It drove Adam out of the garden. It sent the first murderer staggering into the darkness. It deluged the earth with the weeping flood. It has built our jails. It dug hell.

"Unto salvation." There can be no salvation except from sin. Sin and salvation cannot be brought together. But who can deliver me from my sin? I told my friend yesterday. Will repentance deliver me? I visited a man in jail. He was white with fear. In terror he pleaded with me to do something. I have never seen a case of more sincere repentance; but the next day the man was sentenced to jail.

Will reformation deliver me? How can I reform last year? A prominent business man was approached in his place of business by one who addressed him with a name other than that which was over the door. He said, "You are my prisoner." His wife entered the room and he asked her whether he had been a good husband and father. She assured him that he had. That man had lived an exemplary life for years; yet, reformation did not save him.

If I can so easily back me up, my sin, that they will not be, there is hope; otherwise not. There is no getting from sin to salvation. Who, then, can build the bridge? There is no answer. There is no getting from sin to salvation unless God build the bridge.

"But," you say, "hasn't God as great pardoning power as the governor of Arizona?" No. The governor of Arizona may pardon a criminal; God cannot. Why? Because He is God. Pardoning power is vested in the governor because of two weaknesses in human law. Either the law is imperfect in its constitution or in its application. Hence an appeal to a higher tribunal. If God were to pardon one sinner, God would admit that His divine law was imperfect. Such an admission means that God is imperfect and He and His moral government totter and fall.

"But," you ask, "can God do nothing?" If God could find somebody whose merit could balance all sin, He could do something. But there is no such person. Christ is the only one whose merit covers all sin. God was in Christ reconciling the world to Himself. His infinite merit meets all demands of the law. He bore our sins on the tree. Without the shedding of blood there is no remission. Christ was the equivalent of the sin of the whole world. Hence justice as well as mercy can pardon me. The resurrection of Jesus is God's seal and man's alleluia. If I accept Christ's atonement, I am saved. God is satisfied with Jesus; if I am, I am saved. He can justify. What do you think of the Christ who built the bridge?

Tomorrow night Dr. Hinson will present "Eight Pictures."

The evangelistic conference is proving an inspiration to the body of ministers who have assembled from all parts of Arizona. Papers and discussions characterize the meeting. But Dr. Hinson is the chief attraction. He speaks each day from 11:00 to 12:00 and from 3:00 to 4:30.

A unique feature of the revival meeting is the auto truck covered with banners and loaded with singers and speakers parading the streets carrying a message of song and speech.

THE HUDSON CAR PROVES TO BE HILL CLIMBER

The Hudson Sales company, of Phoenix, yesterday unloaded their third carload of Super Sixes, covering the period of the past ten days, during which time the local agency has been much in Phoenix to demonstrate the quality of the Hudson Super Six.

In speaking yesterday of the climbing qualities of his car, Mr. Moscor, elicited some interesting information he had just received from Indiana.

He said: "Tabor Hill, located about sixteen miles from Bloomington, Indiana, has always been a Nemesis of a class of ambitious motorists. To love to sing the praises of the abilities of their cars to climb grades is high gear. The super salesman, however, when out with a prospect, takes a route that lies in the opposite direction of Old Man Tabor.

"It is a proud boast of neighbors in the vicinity that Tabor Hill has never been climbed by a motor car running in high gear and carrying more than five passengers. But now these same neighbors are talking about a trim-looking car that came down in that neck of the woods October 25th and did things to poor old Tabor that put him down and out for good. For Tabor Super Six, driven by E. R. Hummel, not only climbed the hill on high, but accomplished so many other wonderful feats in and around Bloomington and vicinity that the natives are still talking in loud-mouthed praise of the car's accomplishments.

"Of the many feats performed by

DUKE OF ORLEANS WILL ASK THE POPE TO ANNUL MARRIAGE

Duke and Duchess of Orleans.

According to authoritative reports, the Duke of Orleans, pretender to the throne of France, is about to apply to the court of Rome for an annulment of his marriage to the Archduchess Marie Dorothea of Austria. The duke contends that the marriage was not concluded on the Austrian side in accordance with all the requirements of ecclesiastical law. The duchess won an action for separation in January, 1914.

At the outbreak of the war the duke in sending back the insignia of the Golden Fleece to the Austrian emperor wrote that the marriage had been the curse of his life.

The cross-country champion, the most remarkable was that of climbing Tabor hill in high gear, carrying nine passengers, whose total weight aggregated 1,410 pounds. The car left Indianapolis Wednesday morning and made an uneventful run to get in high gear and the run to Nashville made and every hill that looked difficult encountered on the way was climbed, including the famous Kelly, said to be the worst hill in Indiana.

"But the real surprise was to come. Six passengers were taken over, then seven, then eight, and finally Hummel, just to prove that he had a real car, and to make his victory complete, as possible, loaded eight men, in addition to himself, into the car and went over in high gear. He crossed the top at a speed of twelve miles an hour, amid the shouts and congratulations of men who had seen cars fail to climb the hill while carrying only one occupant."

SENIORS SELECT THE ANNUAL STAFF

The senior class elected part of the annual staff yesterday at their monthly class meeting. The seniors this year have the pep and are evidently going to put out the best high school book ever published by upper classmen.

This year's class is starting with the election of officers at an early date in order to have plenty of time to devote to the big book.

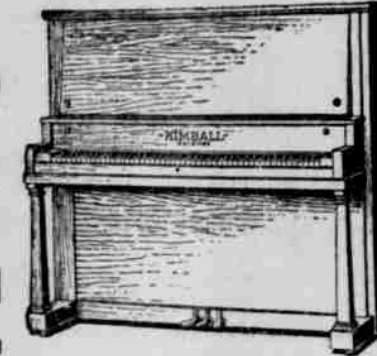

Every member elected on the staff will take up his duties immediately, and give the annual the best there is in them.

The staff is composed of five wires and each one has some original ideas. Those who were elected on the staff are: Editor-in-chief, Linley Orme; Associate editor, Earl Reno; Assistant Business manager, Glen McCall; Society editor, Maud Stewart.

The next interesting number on the program was an announcement made by Mr. Elliott, who stated that a new seating plan had been worked out. All seniors are to have the first seven rows, the girls will be seated on the east side and the boys on the west.

WILL YOU ENTER THE CONTEST? WILL YOU WIN THE PIANO?

RULES GOVERNING CONTEST

All successful contestants will be notified and all prizes must be called for within fifteen days from notice. Only one person in a family can enter. Everyone sending in an answer will receive for their work one copy of Nation's Home Songs. And also, a ten-dollar credit check, good only on the purchase of a new piano or player. We are taking this means to reward you for your work in placing our name before the public of Phoenix and Arizona.

The correct solution of this Rebus expresses a statement of fact which we consider very complimentary to the Kimball Piano, and we want to burn this into the mind of everyone in the State of Arizona.

Should there be more than one correct answer, or should two or more tie in being correct in their solution, awards will then be made to the contestant presenting his or her solution displayed in the most attractive manner and of the greatest value to us from an advertising standpoint as judged by the board of judges.

None of these prizes will be awarded to anyone connected in any way with the sale of musical instruments.

The answers submitted by contestants will be examined a short time previous to the date on which awards are to be made. The answers will then be examined in the presence of three impartial judges, gentlemen of the highest integrity, selected from well known business men, and who are in no way connected with the music industry, whose decisions will be final and irrevocable.

THE PROUD OLD KIMBALL NAME

With new laurels of victories won, and better than ever before, the proud old Kimball name again bows to the music-loving public of Phoenix. It was a happy day at Marvin's when the message from over the wire read: "Kimball Pianos and Players won Grand Prize and Gold Medal Panama-Pacific International Exposition."

But not until just recently were all the diplomas signed by the P. P. I. E. officials and awarded to the manufacturers of the Kimball Piano.
